

MISS HELEN FIFIELD DISAPPEARS LEFT HOME EARLY THIS MORNING

GREAT MYSTERY ABOUT THE EVENT PARENTS ALMOST DISTRACTED

The Whole Town is Aroused and Parties are Out Searching For the Lost Young Woman In All the Surrounding Towns.

ROCK RIVER IS NOW BEING DRAGGED

It Is Believed She Is Laboring Under Some Mental Difficulty—No Known Reason Why She Should Leave Her Home So Suddenly.

At four o'clock as The Gazette goes to press a telegram has been received which contains a possible clue to the mysterious disappearance of Miss Fifield. Both the C. & N. W. and the C. M. & St. P. railway companies have been telegraphing to all the surrounding cities and late this afternoon the first ray of hope came in a telegram stating that a policeman in the union depot at Chicago had noticed a young lady talking to a cabman and asking to be taken to a certain sanitarium.

She was acting strangely and could not seem to make the cabman understand where she wanted to go.

Frank Dilts, the night man at the Northwestern depot says that he sold a ticket for Chicago for the 4:30 train this morning to a young woman who wore a black sailor hat and kept a black veil over her face. Mr. Fifield, father of the girl, does not gather much hope from these statements as he says Miss Helen had no such hat and there was none in the house.

A later telegram says that the cabman who took charge of the girl in Chicago is known and will be interviewed, as soon as he returns to the depot.

Miss Helen Fifield, the eldest daughter of Alderman and Mrs. F. E. Fifield arose from her bed this morning, while in her sleep or laboring under some mental difficulty left the house and wandered away so that no trace of her can be found.

As near as can be ascertained she had on at the time she left home, her shoes, but no stockings, her night dress with a black skirt over it and a light dressing sack over her shoulders.

Happy All Day Long
Miss Fifield was nineteen years of age of a happy disposition and without a care on earth to bother her. She attended the party given by Mrs. D. K. Jeffris last evening in company with her mother and sister Catherine and returned home with them about ten o'clock. She sat in the parlor with her mother and sister for about an hour laughing and talking about the party and the splendid time they had enjoyed.

Woke Up Her Sister
She and her sister retired together in the best of spirits. Some time during the night her sister heard her get out of bed and it awakened her and she looked at a small clock standing near the bed and saw it was a quarter to four.

She went to bed again and the next time she woke up it was about half past six. She looked for her clock and found it was missing. Her sister Helen was not in bed and had evidently taken the clock to see what time it was as the clock was found in another room. She was not alarmed at Miss Helen's absence and thought she had gone across the street to visit her grandmother, as she often did.

Found She Was Missing
At breakfast her father inquired about Helen and was told she was probably at her grandmother's and he left for the lumber yard and thought no more of it.

About 9:30 o'clock Mrs. Fifield went over to Mr. Fifield's mother's home and inquired for Helen, and was told that she had not been there that morning.

Mrs. Fifield immediately telephoned her husband and told him what had happened and went to her daughter's room to ascertain what clothes she had taken. She found that her daughter had gone away scantily dressed and was almost distracted over the occurrence.

Call on the Police
The police force was at once notified and a systematic search for the missing girl was commenced.

Searching parties went out the different roads leading out of town and others went along the river, and around the race but could find no trace of her.

It must have been after daylight when she left home and it seems almost impossible that she could have gone any distance from home without being seen by some one.

Systematic Search
At noon Chief Hogan organized a system of searching parties and sent them out in every direction by the roads leading out of the city with instructions to inquire at every house and of every person they met for news of the missing young lady.

D. K. and F. J. Jeffris took the road to the Rock River house, P. J. Monat and W. H. Greenman went up the east side of the river towards Barker's corners.

Scattered in All Directions
H. C. Carter and F. L. Clemons took the Magnolia road, Dr. Farnsworth the Mineral Point road, George McKee and George Simpson went towards Footville and I. F. Wortendyke the Afton road on the west side of the river. All have instructions to make a thorough search and telephone in from the nearest phone if they get any news. Another party, under Chief Hogan secured pike poles and grappling hooks to drag the river with, if by any chance she should have fallen in her wanderings.

No Cause Known.
No cause can be assigned for her mysterious disappearance. She was a young lady whose bright sunny ways made for her a host of friends. She had everything one could desire and her home surroundings were of the most pleasant kind. She had no love affairs that could have caused her any trouble.

snap them up and to heap libel on the Boers."

Captain Reichmann's report, as an entirety on the matter of such abuses is not given to the public. Those that have had the privilege of examining it, assert that he goes to the extent of accusing the British in a modified manner, of willful violation, while if any such could be credited to the Boers they were the result of ignorance. The Boer was humane. The captain says: "The Boer bestowed the same care on the British wounded as on its own, and treated British soldiers with kindness and consideration."

Light Caboose Is Wrecked.
Milladore, Wis., June 20.—The caboose of a Wisconsin Central train was smashed to splinters in a peculiar manner about two miles east of this place. The caboose was very light. The train was going at a high rate of speed when the caboose jumped the track and struck a crossing, which snapped it from the train.

and her sister were planning a trip to Boston and the East in a short time. Her health was perfect and her spirits were the highest when she retired last night. She was not in the habit of walking in her sleep and every new development only adds to the mystery surrounding her disappearance.

An Idolized Child
She was idolized by her father and mother who are about crazy from the terrible strain they are under caused by her disappearance. They have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community in this their time of trouble.

It hardly seems possible with all the search that is being made but that some trace of the lost one will soon be obtained.

No Trace at Late Hour
At a late hour this afternoon no trace of the missing girl had been received.

George M. McKee and George Simpson went as far as Footville and telephoned in that they had found no trace of her and were coming in on the Mineral Point road.

I. F. Wortendyke and C. D. Stevens phoned up from Afton saying that their search had been fruitless and that they would come back on the east side of the river.

Found No Clothing Missing
The parents of the missing girl have made a thorough search of the house and can find no clothing missing outside of what she is supposed to have had on, which was a night dress, black skirt, light dressing sack and slippers.

Wandered in Her Sleep

When Miss Fifield was quite young she sometimes wandered in her sleep but nothing of the kind has happened for years and she was not known to have anything on her mind that would cause her to get up and wander away. She and her sister have been quite busy of late getting ready for a trip East and expected to start next week. Last night a telegram was received saying that they ought to start by Sunday. She was somewhat worried about this and thought they might not be able to get ready by that time.

Took Train While Asleep

Members of the family are rather inclined to think that Miss Fifield took a train while asleep or temporarily deranged. She and her sister, Miss Catherine, were planning to go east with their aunts, Mrs. Sherer and Miss Kate Fifield, the object of the elder ladies' trip being to attend a Christian Science convention. They had expected to go some time ago but the convention had been postponed until July 7. Yesterday afternoon a telegram was received from the lady with whom they intended to stop in Boston, saying that the convention was to be held this next Sunday instead of two weeks from then and for the party to come on immediately.

The telegram directed to Miss Catherine Fifield, was meant for the aunt but was opened and read by her namesake niece. It came just as the Misses Fifield and their mother were starting for the Jeffris party and naturally the girls thought about it a great deal wondering what was to be done.

The theory is that Miss Helen went to bed so intent on this subject that her mind was governed by the one thought and that under the idea that she must start immediately, she began her journey, whether on foot or by train no one knows.

Drew Her Money From Bank.
It is further known that Miss Fifield drew her money from the bank yesterday and paid several bills, the receipts being found in her pocket.

BURNS SUCCEEDS COL. FRANK BARRY

End of a Strong Fight in the Pythian Fraternity Over an Important Position.

Waukesha, Wis., June 20.—U. S. Burns of Sheboygan, retiring grand chancellor commander of the grand lodge of Wisconsin, was elected last evening to succeed Frank Barry of Milwaukee as grand keeper of records and seals. This is the end of a strong friendly fight in the Pythian fraternity wherein the retiring chancellor and the assistant of the retiring keeper of records were pitted against each other.

There was little rivalry over the other offices the most of them being filled by moving up the late occupants of the next lower chair. Zeno M. Host of Milwaukee was advanced two chairs and given the highest office in the grand lodge, grand chancellor commander. The other grand officers elected are as follows:

Grand chancellor commander—Zeno Host, Milwaukee.
Grand vice chancellor Commander—C. Green, Superior.
Grand prelate—Grant L. Milnor, Richland Center.
Grand master of arms—J. H. Nattreis, Schullburg.
Grand keeper of records and seals—U. S. Burns, Sheboygan.
Grand master or exchequer—Fred Krause, Milwaukee.
Grand inner guard—J. A. Farnham, Fennimore.
Grand outer guard—J. A. Farnham, Fennimore.

Grand Trustee—Ph. Graham, Beloit.
Supreme representative—Frank Hoskins, Fond du Lac.

The most important business was the consideration of the matter of a national Pythian home, which is now being discussed in the grand lodges all through the country. The discussion was long and the question was left to the good judgement of the representatives in the supreme lodge.

Supreme Chancellor of the World Ogden H. Fethers of Janesville attended the sessions yesterday. Madison was chosen as the location for the next meeting of the Knights of Pythias of Wisconsin.

HYMEN A BARFOR WOMEN TEACHERS

The Omaha Board of Education Decrees Dismissal as a Sequel to Matrimony.

Omaha, June 20.—The board of education has truck a blow at the honorable institution of marriage. By an amendment of the rules, just adopted, any young woman who takes unto herself a husband thereby forfeits her place on the school rolls.

"We don't want to encourage teachers to exchange Persian rug salaries for rag carpet husbands," said one member in explaining his vote.

The young matrons on the list, of whom there are about thirty, have risen in arms against the project. In some cases they set forth marriage constitutes an additional reason why a girl should busy herself in some money making project. If they desire to encumber themselves with husbands the girls hold that such is one of their twentieth-century privileges, with which the board has no right to meddle.

The teachers affected have seriously considered taking the matter to the courts. Good lawyers have told them the board's policy will not hold in law. It is a blow, they argue, against one of the saving institutions of civilization which no one has a right to undermine.

MONUMENT TO J. G. BLAINE

Andrew Carnegie Will Erect a Memorial in a Pittsburg Park

Pittsburg, Pa., June 20.—Andrew Carnegie will erect a monument to James G. Blaine. A personal friendship of many years and a warm admiration for the champion of American industries inspires the philanthropist in this undertaking. A site for the monument, it is said, will be chosen in Schenley park near the Carnegie institute.

W. D. Taylor was elected professor of engineering, to succeed the late Prof. N. O. Whitney, who died several months ago from heart disease.

Alumni Day at Madison

Yesterday was alumni day at the university. The business meeting was held in the morning, and the banquet in the afternoon. At the business meeting it was decided to continue the alumni fellowship of 400 and the publication of the alumni magazine. It was voted to petition the board of regents to change the name of Main hall to Bascom hall in honor of former President Bascom of Williamstown, Mass.

The officers elected for the ensuing year were: President, Dr. John Dobson of Chicago, class of '81; vice president, Mrs. John M. Olin of Madison, '76; secretary, C. F. Spensley of Madison, '96; members of executive committee for two years, professor D. B. Frankenburg of Madison, '69; Attorney E. N. Warner of Madison, '89; Attorney W. H. Rogers of Madison, '75.

At the Alumni banquet last night Gov. La Follette was the last speaker, his subject being "The State."

The graduating exercises of the School of Music were held last night at library hall. An elaborate program of vocal and instrumental music was rendered.

PINGREE'S FUNERAL ON JULY FOURTH

Detroit Citizens Propose to Erect a Heroic Statue to the Memory of the Dead Ex-Governor.

Detroit, Mich., June 20.—The remains of ex-Governor Pingree are expected to arrive in Detroit on July 4. The funeral will be public, the day being a half holiday. Military and civic bodies will attend.

A petition from the naval reserves and veterans of the Spanish-American war was sent to President McKinley today asking that the remains be brought to the United States in a warship, believing that his peculiarly valuable services rendered during the war and his own war record entitle him to this last honor.

It is proposed to erect a heroic statue to the memory of the dead governor, to cost $200,000, and subscriptions are pouring in for the purpose to the committee appointed several weeks ago to arrange for his reception and to the newspapers.

STEPS TO STAMP OUT SMALL POX

Meeting of the State Board of Health in Milwaukee Monday—Spread of the Disease.

Milwaukee, Wisconsin, June 20.—Steps are to be taken by the state board of health to stamp out small-pox in the state. At the semi-annual meeting of the board at Plankinton house next Monday plans are to be considered and it is probable that a part of the $50,000 contingent fund appropriated by the legislature will be used to stamp out the disease. Gov. La Follette will probably be here to take part in the proceeding, for without his consent the money can not be spent. There are now about 100 cases of the disease in the state.

The number of cases in the state for some time past has been getting larger.

Physicians say that this is due to the mildness of the disease and from the fact that few persons realize they are infected until too late. Proper precautions then has often been neglected, which has resulted in the spread of the disease to almost every county in the state.

ALLEGED CRUELTY STIRS UP A ROW

Real State of Affairs in South Africa Opens the Eyes of the English People.

Birmingham, June 20.—The Post, Joseph Chamberlain's paper says this morning that the British refugee camps at Cape Town are worse than Boer camps. While the British refugees receive but slight courtesy the paper states that sixteen thousand pounds have been spent to buy pipes, brandy, ice, canes, pencils and soda water for Boer reconcentrados.

About fifteen members of parliament who resent the party's capture by the "pro-Boers" are preparing a manifesto to explain their position. The pro-Boer committees are now circulating photographs of the Boer reconcentrados which show ghastly-eyed skeletons similar to those printed of Cuban reconcentrados and Indian famine victims.

Rockefeller Gives $250,000.

Ithaca, N. Y., June 20.—At a meeting of the board of trustees of Cornell university today President Schueman presented a letter from John D. Rockefeller donating $250,000 to the university on condition that an equal amount is contributed by others. The $500,000 when secured will be used in providing additional accommodations for instruction and research.

GIFTS OF $350,000

College Obtains Dr. Pearson's Cash by Raising the Required $150,000.

CLOSING EXERCISES.

Beloit, Wis., June 20.—The fifty-fourth annual commencement of Beloit college, as announced in the Gazette last evening, was marked with another memorable event.

President Eaton brought joy to every Beloit person by his announcement that he would recall his resignation, which he made a few months ago, and continue with the institution, and that the endowment of the college has been enriched $350,000 through a gift of $200,000 by D. K. Pearsons of Chicago, with the condition that $150,000 be obtained from other sources.

Had not the $150,000 been raised President Eaton would have insisted on his resignation being accepted for he had decided not to remain with the college unless it were.

Colle Acting President
The trustees have given him a year's leave of absence for recuperation and study, and have appointed Dean George L. Collie, as acting president during his absence.

When, in 1889, Dr. Pearsons entered upon his career of beneficence, he selected Beloit to be among the first recipients of his liberality. Again and again he has given direction and success to the efforts of the trustees of the college. The present gift of $200,000 makes the aggregate of his benefactions to Beloit college more than half a million dollars.

Dr. Pearson's last gift to Beloit brings the total of his donations to colleges to $3,000,000. Yet he is not through giving, and has practically admitted that he will give away another series of $50,000 checks aggregating $350,000.

$150 for a Big for One Day.

Chicago, June 20.—One Chicago man has paid $150 for the hire of an automobile for the day. That's an inordinately large sum of money for the rent of any equipment under ordinary circumstances, but as this man desires to attend the American Derby the apparent lavish outlay of money is, in his opinion, not at all extravagant.

BRITISH VIOLATED THE RULES OF WAR

Captain Reichmann Accuses the Red Coats in South Africa of Cruelty and Barbarism.

Washington, D. C., June 20.—The report to the war department on the South African war by Capt. Charles Reichmann, U. S. A., will carry consternation into the ranks of the officials of great Britain.

The officer does not mince words. He accuses Great Britain's soldiers of barbarism and with violating the rules of warfare with malice aforethought. Referring to the charges that the Boers violated the rules of war, Capt. Reichmann says:

"Such alleged unlawful occurrences were not confined to the side of the Boers. They occurred on the British side also. When they occurred on the British side the Boers had little to say against them. When they occurred on the Boer side a horde of war correspondents stood ready to

TWO UNITED IN BONDS OF WEDLOCK

Miss Alice E. Pettric Becomes the Wife of Gordon D. Simonds—A Beautiful Ceremony.

Last evening in the presence of a small company of immediate relatives and a few intimate friends, Miss Alice E. Pettric, of this city, became the wife of Gordon D. Simonds, of Seattle, Wash. The beautiful ceremony was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Pettric, 160 North Main street at six o'clock, the Rev. Father W. A. Goebel being the officiating clergyman. The bride and groom were unattended and the wedding, while unpretentious, was a very pretty one. The home was elaborately decorated with potted plants and cut flowers and the marriage vows were exchanged under a floral arch in the double doorway between the parlors. Following the ceremony and congratulations the wedding party enjoyed an elaborate feast. There were about twenty guests.

The bride, who has always made her home in this city, is a graduate from the Janesville High school in the class of '99 and among her accomplishments she numbers that of being a brilliant pianist. She is a member of the Musical-Literary society and her playing added much to the enjoyable program given by the society during the past winter.

The groom is one of Seattle's wealthy and prominent young business men. He at one time resided in this city his father having been pastor of All Souls' church, and was graduated from the classical department at the university of Wisconsin in the class of '98. The newly married couple left last evening on the 9:30 train for their future home in Seattle.

Linnemann-Pebodo Wedding

A pretty and quiet wedding was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Linnemann last evening at 8 o'clock when Miss Ida Linnemann, daughter of the host and hostess, was united in marriage to Joseph B. Pebodo, of Muskegon, Mich. Rev. W. W. Woodside, pastor of the First M. E. church, was the officiating clergyman. The ceremony was witnessed by a small company of relatives and friends and was followed by an elegant wedding supper.

DOUBLE BILL AT GRAND TONIGHT

Tomorrow Evening the Nielsen Stock Company Will Repeat "The Pearl of Savoy" by Request.

"Young Mrs. Winthrop" was presented at the Myers Grand last evening in an excellent manner that would have been a credit to a far more pretentious organization than a popular priced repertoire company is supposed to be. In fact there have been many dollar-shows seen in this city that wouldn't begin to compare favorably with the production given by Hortense and Marie Nielsen and their company last evening. The play is a beautiful one and it was richly costumed. While the role of Mrs. Winthrop is rather mature for Hortense Nielsen still she carried it admirably and her sister Marie was altogether charming as the gay and much-married friend. Annie Hamilton's blind girl was sweet and lovable, Mrs. Doud played the part of the mother well, Charles Burnham was ingenious as the young lover and the jolly lawyer was cleverly done by J. H. Lewis and was by far the best work he has done this week. Harry Driscoll, the leading man, does not make good with his excellent reputation. He does not seem to take interest in his work and his intense scenes are disappointing because of a lack of earnestness. The audience last evening was delighted with the performance.

Tonight a double bill will be presented "The Little Rebel" and "Child of the Regiment."

Tomorrow evening the company will repeat the "Pearl of Savoy" by request and the engagement will close Saturday evening. Saturday afternoon there will be a special matinee for ladies and children, the admission being ten cents to all parts of the house.

FIRE-PROOF BUILDINGS.

More Now in the Course of Construction Than Ever Before.

The demand for fireproofing material these days is greater than it has ever been. The big companies scented a brick season several months ago, but they scarcely expected the tremendous market which now prevails, says the American Contractor.

There are more buildings in the course of erection today calling for fire proof construction than ever before. These buildings include not only many storied office and mercantile buildings, hotels and apartment houses, but a great number of high-class buildings of considerable cost but no great altitude. In this group should be enumerated hundreds of public edifices, libraries, banks, first-class storage buildings, etc.

It is but a logical development that the fire-proofing idea is rapidly spreading to all sorts of first-class buildings, whether of a sky-scraper order or not. The building laws in cities of the first, second and third class, will, within a dozen years, forbid the occupation of tenement and flat buildings taller than four stories which are not fireproofed according to the latest state of the art. Our municipal bureaus of public safety should be vested with liberal prerogatives along these lines.

THE PROGRESS OF ELECTRICAL WORK

Prof. Robert H. Thurston in the Popular Science Monthly. In 1800 Galvani and Volta had sowed the seed, and since has sprung up the whole science and art of electrical physics. Ten years ago we had about 700 miles of electric railway; today about 15,000 miles are in operation in the United States alone; a thousand millions of dollars are invested in the stock, and an army of 200,000 men is employed by them, mainly in the great cities, but with steady growth toward all sections and into all aggregations of population. Two thousand millions of dollars are now reported to be invested in apparatus of electrical distributions of energy, converted ultimately into light and power. About two thirds of a billion of dollars are invested in the property of the electric light companies. We have between one and two million miles of telephone wire and can talk from Boston to Chicago; from Chicago to San Francisco will soon be found an easy conversational distance. The Bell company alone owns a million miles of wire, a million and a half instruments and receives six millions of dollars a year from its business. The world outside the United States, uses not quite as much capital in this most wonderful of the inventions of the century as does our own country, having about a half-million exchanges to our six hundred thousand and over on the Bell system alone.

MODES FOR WOMEN.

The law of fashion is the accepted one in Paris. There are, of course, a few who, finding the high style of hairdressing to suit them, hold to it, but the majority of Parisiennes have lowered their tresses to the nape of the neck for evening wear in heavy loops and twists. In the day time it is not worn quite so low, for then the hair is pinned in light curls and puffs at the back of the head. This means, of course, that the collar of the dress will be practically nonexistent.

Most of the bodices are finished off with a lace chemisette or narrow lace band at the throat, and muslins and batistes are used as fold inside cotton blouses. There are many delightful little linen collars, not more than half an inch in depth, of colored linen, in blues, pinks, mauves, and yellow edges with white cambric brading, their points turned downward. Under the collar is passed a muslin scarf, which is tied in a neat precise, little bow under the chin. Very dainty are the little cambric collarettes and cravettes this year.

Lace incrustations may be said to be the rule. Some well-known houses still employ an amount of cretonne applique and incrustations, but the general use seems to be lace, and the newest idea is to employ two or three different shades of lace dead white, cream, pearl white, in one crustation, while every conceivable shape and form of inlaid is employed on the one dress. For foulards and for evening gowns, black and white incrustations are both used separately, and a favorite idea seems to be to employ the former in the shape of black lace ostrich feathers, sometimes picked out with diamonds, and laid in hazard here and there over a white lace incrustated foundation.

TALK OF SPOONER FOR PRESIDENCY

The Wisconsin Senator is Looming Up as a Formidable Candidate in National Race.

Washington correspondence of Chicago Chronicle, Dem.: Senator Spooner is looming up in current gossip as a formidable candidate for president. According to politicians in Washington he is one of the most available of all the statesmen whose names have been mentioned. Wisconsin men at the national capitol shake their heads, however, when he senator's name is discussed. They do not understand his method of playing politics.

They say that in putting off the day for making announcement of his purpose to withdraw or enter the race for senator to succeed himself, he is embarrassing his friends almost to the limit of endurance. They are afraid moreover that the existing breach in the ranks of the republican party in Wisconsin will prove disastrous to Senator Spooner. His close friendship for Gov. La Follette will not permit him to become an integral part of a movement directed against La Follette's nomination. On the other hand, the so-called Stalwarts do not care to burden themselves with anyone who is not willing to accept all the chances of war, and not even Senator Spooner can retain their support if he should be unwilling to oppose La Follette. The situation is exceedingly embarrassing in quarters where Spooner stock would be quoted at a premium if the senator would only aid in its promotion. It is an open secret that the president, Senator Hanna and their friends regard Senator Spooner as one of the most desirable men in public life to succeed the president. If any candidate has a chance of securing the support of the administration, Senator Spooner is that candidate, and whether he gets it or not, will depend upon what he hereafter decides to do in the state of Wisconsin.

About Trade Unions.

Chalmers Roberts reports in the June World's Work a conversation with Sir Hiram Maxim on British and American trade matters. What Sir Hiram says about trade-unionism in England is particularly interesting at this time.

"The British manufacturer," he says, "has a far greater difficulty to contend with than that of tools. A very clever Scotchman, who was at one time manager of our works, said the greatest obstacle he had to contend with was 'organized idleness.' Trades unionism has reached a development in England beyond that of any other part of the world. The Amalgamated Society of Engineers resort to every trick and expedient to limit the output. In many cases a lathe may run a whole day without ever taking a cut at all. They oppose the introduction of new systems or new tools.

"The fact is that the interference of the trade union is so vexatious and arbitrary that English employers feel disposed to take almost any sacrifice to get rid of it, and it appears to me that the only hope lies in the direction of the Federation of the Employers.

"If Eng'nd wishes to compete successfully and to maintain the position which she sought to occupy as a great manufacturing nation, she will not only have to equip her factories with the latest and best instruments, but she will also have to obtain the earnest co-operation of the men who work those instruments. The antagonism which at present exists between the masters and the men is altogether artificial. The great majority of the employers treat their men with absolute justice. If the men were left to themselves they would probably very soon see that it was to their interest to do their best and look upon their employers as friends and benefactors; but the working man has been taught by the professional agitator that his greatest enemy is his employer. He is made to believe that to be a capitalist is to be a criminal and to cheat his master is the only way to 'get square' with him, and he is foolish enough to pay the man who teaches him this folly enough to enable him to live without working.

The club is practically an Epworth League organization and will accompany the Epworth League special and will take part in the San Francisco meeting July 18-21.

The club visited the Rock county asylum this afternoon and delighted the inmates with a complimentary concert.

The young ladies appeared in a concert at the Court Street M. E. church last evening and the audience of music lovers enjoyed a rare treat.

That is what is required by every organ of the body, for the proper performance of its functions.

It prevents biliousness, dyspepsia, constipation, kidney complaint, rheumatism, catarrh, nervousness, weakness, faintness, pimples, blotches, and all cutaneous eruptions.

It perfects all the vital processes.

W. P. Keeton, Woodstock, Ala., took Hood's Sarsaparilla to make his blood pure. He writes that he had not felt well but tired for some time. Before he had finished the first bottle of this medicine he felt better and when he had taken the second was like another man free from that tired feeling and able to do his work.

IS YOUR GASOLINE CAN PAINTED RED?

Provisions of a Law Passed Last Winter by the Wisconsin Legislature—Text of Law.

Is your gasoline can painted red? Is the word "Gasoline" plainly stenciled, not painted, thereon? If not you are a transgressor of the law and are liable to a fine of not less than five nor more than fifty dollars, or to imprisonment in the county jail for a term not exceeding three months, or to both.

The fact that there is, such a law does not seem to be generally understood by either dealers or individuals but such a law was passed at the recent session of the state legislature and went into effect on the first day of June of this year. The text of the law is as follows:

"Every person dealing in retail in gasoline in this state shall after the first day of June, 1901, deliver the same to the purchaser only in barrels, casks, packages or cans painted vermilion red and having the word 'gasoline' plainly stenciled thereon. No such dealer shall deliver kerosene in a barrel, cask, package or can painted or stenciled as above. Every person purchasing gasoline for use shall procure and keep the same only in barrels, casks, packages or cans painted or stenciled as above. No person keeping for use or using, kerosene shall put or keep the same in any barrel, cask, package or can painted or stenciled as above. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by fine of not less than five, nor more than fifty dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed three months or by both such fine and imprisonment."

Thus it will be plainly seen that gasoline receptacles must be painted red, not any color so long as "it is red," but brilliant vermilion red. Likewise kerosene must not be kept in cans painted red. The gasoline cans must be labeled in stenciled letters not in painted ones, according to the law by selling gasoline under law will prevent the selling of gasoline in small quantities in bottles unless the bottles are painted and stenciled according to the requirements of the law. It is said however that druggists will be able to evade the law by selling gasoline under the name of purified benzine, a practice which is quite general even now. The object of the new law is clearly an effort to lessen the number of accidents resulting from a careless use of gasoline and from mistaking gasoline for kerosene or from putting kerosene into gasoline cans.

WEST PORTER.

LEYDEN

Leyden, W. is, June 20.—A very agreeable change has taken place in the weather. Tuesday's shower has made every kind of vegetation look fresh and thriving.

Strawberries are ripe on account of the cold and dry weather.

A new churn is to be put into Leyden creamery which shows an increase of business.

A larger shipment of butter is now being made Fridays than ever before by the George C. Mansfield Creamery Co. of Johnson's Creek.

Pretty Children

"We have three children. Before the birth of the last one my wife used four bottles of MOTHER'S FRIEND. If you had the pictures of our children, you could see at a glance that the last one is healthiest, prettiest and finest-looking of them all. My wife thinks Mother's Friend is the greatest and grandest remedy in the world for expectant mothers."—Written by a Kentucky Attorney-at-Law.

MOTHER'S FRIEND prevents nine-tenths of the suffering incident to childbirth. The coming mother's disposition and temper remain unruffled throughout the ordeal, because this relaxing, penetrating liniment relieves the usual distress. A good-natured mother is pretty sure to have a good-natured child. The patient is kept in a strong, healthy condition, which the child also inherits. Mother's Friend takes a wife through the crisis quickly and almost painlessly. It assists in her rapid recovery, and wards off the dangers that so often follow delivery.

Sold by druggists for $1 a bottle.

KEROSENE OIL TO KILL THE MOSQUITO

Concentrated Attack on the Little Pest by the Towns on the Atlantic Coast.

The despised mosquito is a friend of higher education. Every time one of the pests buries his bill in a human being he puts in a lick for the University of Chicago and other institutions fostered by the Rockefeller millions. The more unpopular the mosquito can make himself the more millions will be added to the Standard Oil wealth, and the more there will be to devote to college training, for oil has been declared to be the best exterminator of the winged tormentors of the night that claim New Jersey as their native land.

It has been discovered that the time to suppress the mosquito's desire for a strenuous life is before he gets started. Once free from the salt meadows, swamps, cess pools, and stagnant ponds he will find his way to his victims, despite wire screens, mosquito bars or pennyroyal. It will take millions of gallons of kerosene to cover all of the favorite breeding places of the mosquito, and in the meantime the dividends of the Standard Oil philanthropist will not suffer.

The seriousness of the mosquito question is such that the wonder is humanity has suffered so long without making a determined effort to check the pest. It has been shown that the insects carry the poison of malaria and even yellow fever, and as this fame increases demands for their extinction become more urgent. In fact, the mosquito is one of the liveliest topics of the day.

It is claimed that there is more reason to quietly endure the ravages of the mosquito than any other epidemic. Instead of a sudden protest expressed by the sudden slap of one's hands and face, and crushing of the insect there is to be concerted effort in the East to exterminate the insect scourge, and kerosene oil is to be the agent employed.

Stagnant water is the breeding place of the mosquito. The female deposits her eggs in stagnant pools and they soon become wrigglers. Anyone who has had the pleasure of "hollering down a rain barrel" has seen the squirming little worms. Before these develop into the culex and anopheles, two of the most virulent types of mosquitoes, it is easy to kill them if the surface of the water be covered with oil. Oil will also prevent the female mosquito from depositing her eggs in the water and will cause her death.

A thin film of oil is all that is needed to check the mosquito's growth. In some cities the boards of health have issued appeals to the citizens to assist. A gill of oil in a well or cesspool with proportionately larger quantities in ponds and marshes is all that is needed. So important has become the subject that the department of agriculture at Washington has taken the subject in hand. As yet, however, the quantity of oil that has been used in killing mosquitoes has been small, but as its efficacy becomes more known the effect on the oil market will be apparent. The newly discovered oil fields of Texas and California will help to relieve the sufferers of mosquito-plagued districts.

The board of health of Greater New York is considering plans for a concerted attack on the mosquito breeding districts near the city. The officials expect the co-operation of New Jersey and Long Island towns. As the draining of marshes in many places is impracticable and costly, the oil exterminator is the most successful method that can be adopted. In Baltimore an appeal has been issued by the Commissioner of public health asking every resident in the mosquito ridden neighborhoods to help. The oil spreads easily over the water in a very thin layer, and wherever it reaches there will be no more mosquito hatching.

Work against the mosquito is being undertaken everywhere by individuals and by communities.

THE RUSSIAN CALENDAR.

A noted Russian professor is traveling to America to make a speech and receive a degree at the Decennial convocation which was held June 15. It is needless to say he will never make the speech although he may receive the degree.

The professor is one of the world's most learned, and yet he has forgotten that his country people are just eleven days behind the rest of the world in reckoning time.

When the Julian calendar was found to be inaccurate Pope Gregory framed a new one and called it after himself. The Greek church in Greece, Russia, and a few other countries, refused to accept a Roman Catholic calendar, even though it might be an improvement on their own. For this reason, as time goes on, the Russians get more and more behind time, so that when we purchased Alaska from them ten days were dropped from the history of that territory and will always remain a blank.

This "improvement" causes merchants a great deal of inconvenience, especially in their correspondence and contracts with foreign countries. They usually write to-day's date June 9-20-01, which means that in Russia it is June 9th, while in the rest of the world it is June 20th. Several attempts have been made to adopt the calendar of the world, but the religious prejudice is still too strong to overcome.

TAXING CHARITIES.

The Illinois assessors are just now having a controversy with the charities of Chicago regarding their determination to tax some religious and educational institutions.

The position taken by the assessors seems just and equitable. They propose to tax such property as yield profits to their owners. This includes such properties as the First M. E. church on Clark street and Madison which pays a big dividend because the entire building is devoted to offices except the auditorium, and again the Tremont house and Grand Pacific hotel and bank building, opposite the Board of Trade owned by the Northwestern University, and which yield over $100,000 annually in rental. Church buildings, used for worship or dormitories and laboratories are not paying investments, and are therefore not to be taxed, but it is manifestly unfair to allow even a church the privilege of making money for business purposes simply, and yet relieve them of their share of the maintenance of the city and state government, and the remission proposed satisfies all the demands of good public policy.

NON UNION STUDENTS.

The striking machinists have appealed to Pres. Angell to prevent the mechanical students from taking the places of striking machinists during the summer. It is difficult to see how Pres. Angell can help the union any except by way of advice to the students; and they are not influenced much by advice.

The machinists' strikers must not look to our institutions of learning for sympathy or assistance, their fight must be waged independently, and reap the reward of their folly.

Prof. Munstreburg has searched his book of synonyms for adjectives in complimenting the American woman, in the "International." In fact, we fail to see what she is not.

Dick Croker shows his true nature in the proposition to present to his guests at a dinner he is soon to give, bound volumes of cartoons of himself as Tammany's Boss. In view of the fact that almost without exception, artists have depicted him as groveling in the public granary after private revenue, it appears that the Boss glories in his own shame.

The servant girls are going to form a union, and demand more leisure; and yet if ten hours of solid work were demanded by housekeepers, these girls would be the first to complain.

A gentleman registered at a Chicago hotel the other day from "Quaystown," formerly Pittsburg. A novel way of calling attention to obnoxious dictatorship.

The Tammany tiger is growling because it does not live in Philadelphia.

No Prayer Meeting Tonight.

There will be no prayer meeting at the Congregational and Presbyterian churches this evening, but a union meeting will be held at the Court Street M. E. church, where the evening will be devoted to a sacred concert by the Juvenile club. There will be a short service at the Baptist church, which will be adjourned as soon as business of importance is transacted. Owing to an important business meeting which has been announced to follow the prayer meeting, the First M. E. church will be unable to join with the other churches.

MRS. D. K. JEFFRIS WAS THE HOSTESS

Entertained Her Many Friends at a Five O'clock Tea at Her Home Last Evening.

One of the most elegant social entertainments ever given in this city was the five o'clock tea at which Mrs. D. K. Jeffris was the hostess an over one hundred of her lady friends were the delighted guests last evening.

Her palatial home on St. Lawrence place, with its almost oriental splendor, its quaint adornments and rich and unique draperies was thrown open to her guests and the spacious rooms took on added beauty from the fair and handsomely gowned women who were happy participants in the brilliant affair. The rooms were further beautified by a profusion of pink and white peonies while the small tables at which the refreshments were served were daintily decorated with sprays of smilax and sweet pea blossoms. The supper was also one of unique excellence and was daintily and exquisitely served, Mrs. Jeffris being assisted by a number of her friends in caring for her guests.

The party was characterized by delightful informality and one of the favorite retreats was the broad veranda. Smith's full orchestra was stationed in the upper hall and their exquisite music and George Hatch's choice vocal solos were delightful features.

After the supper some time was spent in playing six-handed euchre, Mrs. W. H. Greenman being the fortunate winner of the Nubian head which was offered as a prize. On next Saturday Mrs. Jeffris will give a brilliant reception, several hundred invitations having been issued.

MARVELOUS FEATS OF PROF. GLEASON

The Horse Show at the Fair Park is Seen and Admired by Many People.

Quite a crowd gathered at the Fair Grounds last evening to witness the marvelous feats performed by Prof. Gleason. That he is the peer of anyone in this line is not denied by anyone. That horses driven almost to madness could be subdued and quieted in a short space of time is really wonderful. Two horses besides his own trick horses were worked upon last night by the professor and in a short time they were as tame and tractable as horses which had been handled all of their lives. Drums, umbrellas, pistols and other noise making instruments were used to frighten them but had no effect.

Tonight seven outside horses have been secured and the professor will show how easy it is to make them gentle and kind.

A free bus runs from the end of the car line to the grand stand which affords ample protection in any kind of weather.

SAYS MOLINEUX IS GUILTY.

D. B. Hill Speaks for the People in Appeal Proceedings.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 20.—The argument of the appeal of Roland B. Molineux, the alleged poisoner of Mrs. Katherine J. Adams, was resumed before the Court of Appeals today.

Ex-Senator David B. Hill, for the people, made a number of additions to the authorities and decisions referred to in his brief and then took up the question of the guilt of the defendant, reminding court that not once in its argument had the other side avowed the innocence of the accused. He insisted that it had been proved by overwhelming evidence that Molineux had written the letters and the address on the poison package, and that his guilt was clearly established.

He said it was not material who bought the bottle holder and drew attention to the fact that Zellar, Molineux's friend and assistant, had never set foot in New York after the arrest. Mr. Hill also dwelt upon the fact that Molineux was a chemist and described his laboratory and the poisons which it contained.

"Where was the man," he exclaimed, "who had the opportunity that he had to poison his enemies?"

Mr. Hill pictured Molineux as a sufferer from a malady which made him melancholy, reviewed the trouble at the Knickerbocker Athletic club and pictured Molineux as plotting for revenge. He insisted that every circumstance in the case linked Molineux to the crime, including the fact that he had hired a lawyer and engaged a handwriting expert before suspicion against him had shaped itself.

"The defense," said he, "went through the trial casting suspicion right and left without reason or system merely seeking to avert it from their client."

Mr. Hill asserted that under the tutorship of Mr. Carvalho, expert in handwriting, Molineux learned to disguise his handwriting and did disguise it in the writing he did for Expert Kinsley.

INCREASE IN STAMPS USED.

Total for Fiscal Year Is Estimated at $116,938,000.

Washington, June 20.—A statement has just been issued by the director of the bureau of engraving and printing showing the official estimated number of postage stamps distributed in the United States for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1901. According to this statement the issue of the year includes 1,300,000,000 1-cent stamps, 3,500,000,000 2-cent stamps and 809,336,000 of higher denominations. The total, including special delivery 10-cent stamps, is $116,938,000, against 4,377,727,000 for the previous fiscal year.

The number of stamp-books issued, containing twelve, twenty-four and forty-eight 2-cent stamps, is estimated at 3,400,000, 1,020,000 and 45,200 respectively making an additional total of 48,720,000. The estimate shows the issue of postage due stamps to be 25,521,000, against 25,156,000 last year. The number of Pan-American stamps thus far issued is 259,500,000.

The figures to show the face value of the postage stamps issued this year have not yet been completed, but the number produced will exceed all former records by over 1,500,000,000.

Present of $250,000 Creates Surprise and a Similar Amount Will Be Raised.

Ithaca, N. Y., June 20.—John D. Rockefeller has given $250,000 to Cornell university.

Mr. Rockefeller's act is a great surprise to Cornellians, as it was not known until this announcement was made that he had ever been interested in Cornell. ## REXFORD-ROLSTON WEDDING AT MINNEAPOLIS THIS AFTERNOON

The Marriage Was a Very Quiet Affair, All the Appointments Being in Perfect Taste—Off on a Honeymoon Trip.

In Minneapolis this afternoon there was celebrated a quiet wedding which is of special interest to the people of Janesville because it means the return of one of the city's favorite daughters to her former home as the wife of one of Janesville's prominent business men.

At one o'clock this afternoon, the mystic words were spoken which united the future destinies of Miss Belle Rolston of Minneapolis and John G. Rexford of this city. The ceremony was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Butterfield, 2749 Hennepin avenue, Minneapolis. Mrs. Butterfield being the bride's sister. The wedding was a very quiet affair all the appointments being in perfect taste. The nuptial blessing was pronounced by Rev. Dr. Hallock, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational church in whose choir Miss Rolston's sweet voice has assisted so beautifully at sacred services for several years.

The ceremony was witnessed by a few relatives and immediate friends among the number being the groom's mother and sister, Mrs. C. M. Rexford and Miss Mary Rexford, and his friend, Robert M. Bostwick of this city.

After the ceremony and a tempting wedding luncheon, Mr. and Mrs. Rexford left for Duluth immediately where they will remain until Saturday when they will take the lake trip to Buffalo. From Buffalo they will go farther east, spending about six weeks in visiting the various points of interest. On their return to this city they will go to housekeeping in Mrs. Hanchett's home on Sinclair street. It is his intention to build in the near future.

The bride's return to this city will be warmly welcomed by a host of friends and acquaintances with whom her rare personal charms, her graciousness and her accomplishments unite to make her popular. She is richly endowed with womanly graces and with an exquisite voice which is but one of her many charms. As a vocalist she enjoys a high position and her many successes have been a constant source of pleasure to her friends in this city where she resided for so many years.

The groom is cashier of the First National bank and is one of the sterling business men of this city. He also takes an active interest in all progressive movements and those influences which tend towards higher culture, being president of the Musical-Literary society and treasurer of the School Art Auxiliary. He enjoys the highest esteem of all who know him. Mr. and Mrs. Rexford will be welcomed by Janesville friends about the first of August.

GALA DAY FOR MODERN WOODMEN

SPECIAL TRAINS TAKE THEM TO FREEPORT PICNIC.

Porter Band of Twenty Pieces Accompanied the Janesville Delegation of Over 100 on the Trip—The Illinois Town Has Made Arrangements to Entertain in Grand Style.

This was the gala day for the Modern Woodmen. Long before the time for the special on the St. Paul keto leave, the streets leading to the station were lined with people on their way to the train to be on hand to secure good seats in the cars.

Married men with their wives, young men with their best girl and young children all dressed in holiday attire were making for the station with Freeport as their objective point.

A special train of eight coaches and a baggage car stood ready at the station to receive the picnicers, so that all had plenty of room. About three hundred tickets were sold by the St. Paul company and about twenty-five by the Northwestern. About one hundred members of Florence camp, No. 336 left on the special, the balance being their wives, children and sight-seers.

The Porter band of twenty pieces arrived at 6:40 this morning. They marched around the town serenading the hotels and business places, rendering a number of up-to-date pieces in first-class style. They created a good impression and satisfied the Woodmen that they had a good band to lead them, even if they were not able to secure the Imperial band which went to Beloit last night to lead Beloit camp.

About thirty minutes after the Janesville special left the station, a special train of ten coaches and two baggage cars pulled into town bearing Woodmen and their friends from Madison, Stoughton, Edgerton, Whitewater and Waukesha. The cars were all well filled and there must have been six hundred people aboard. Three bands accompanied these visitors so that there was no lack of music.

When the last special pulled into the station a bunch of young fellows, with cotton in their throats, jumped off and started for the nearest saloon, to get something to keep them alive until the next stopping place was reached. Evidently they thought the train would wait for some minutes before leaving for Freeport, but in this they were mistaken. The train pulled out and then came a hot foot race to get aboard.

By the time Pleasant street was reached all had succeeded in getting aboard except two. Here one of them grabbed the rear rail and was dragged off his feet but he clung to the rod and was dragged aboard by his friends. The other young fellow grabbed the rail but could not retain his hold and was thrown around behind the cars and rolled over several times in the dirt.

Fortunately for him it was the rear end of the last car or he would have been thrown under the wheels. He received no hurts outside of a few scratches and after brushing himself off he walked back to the Northwestern station where he waited until 11:40 for a train to carry him the balance of the way.

Freeport has made every arrangement for entertaining the crowd of visitors which will flock to that city today. All sorts of games to catch the public will be in operation and many a one will return home tonight with a good share of his money but with a big bunch of experience.

Picnics of this kind are always a fertile field for grafters, con men and pickpockets. The police keep a sharp lookout for people of this class but are not always able to get all of them cooped up before the crowds arrive.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Shattuck and son of Chicago are the guests of Mrs. Shattuck's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. Sutherland.

MALTPRESS THINKS ITS SAME FELLOW

Rock County Sheriff Believes the Man in Kenosha Jail Took the Tripp Horses.

Sheriff Maltress made a visit to Kenosha yesterday to see Downs, the man arrested at that place for horse stealing. He immediately recognized him as a travelling horse shoer and blacksmith that had been in Edgerton several times. He worked in the shops until he got a few dollars ahead and then left. The description given by the gateman at the Pleasant street crossing of the man that crossed the tracks with a team, supposed to be the one stolen from H. L. Tripp of the town of Rock, fits Downs exactly. It is also known that Downs was in the city the day before the Tripp robbery occurred.

These things make the sheriff think that Downs was the man that got away with Tripp's team. Sheriff Maltress after talking with Downs for some time asked him what he did with Tripp's team. He said he knew nothing about them; if he did he would tell because he was willing to do anything for Rock county. Chief Hogan knows Downs well and has had him in the lockup several times.

The last time he saw him was a year ago last winter, when he came up from Beloit and had a big bull dog with him. He got full of whiskey and was put in the lockup by the sheriff. The officers are satisfied that Downs could tell what became of Tripp's team if he could be induced to talk. They have a good case against him over in Kenosha and he is likely to get a long term for his misdeeds.

Editor Weiss of the Waukesha Press was in the city yesterday.

JELIFF HAD A MANIA FOR LOCKS; COULD OPEN ANY FASTENING AT WILL

All the Money Stolen from the Mineral Point Bank Has Been Recovered Except $35.

Mineral Point, Wis., June 20.—All the money stolen from the First National bank of that city has been recovered with the exception of $35. The last find was $4,200, which was discovered under a stone a few miles west of the city by detectives, who followed Stewart Jeliff's directions.

Jeliff is now in jail awaiting trial, and it is believed that he will make a full confession, now that he has turned over the money. Jeliff is a mechanical genius who from his boyhood had a passionate love for locks. He made keys for different locks which he saw, and it was claimed that he could open any lock at will. The more intricate the mechanism of a lock the more fascinating it became to Jeliff. Some of his earlier exploits are now recalled by the inhabitants of Ripon, where his people reside. One day his father returned to his real estate office to find the doors of the vault lying on the floor and Jeliff inside. His reputation for lock-picking led to his arrest for the robbery of a safe in a Ripon pharmacy in 1899.

In this case the pharmacy was entered in the night, the doors of the safe opened and $300 in money taken. The combination was changed and the proprietor had to blow open the doors in order to get into the safe. The state was unable to convict Jeliff or to prove that he had anything to do with the crime. Jeliff was always an "odd fish." He had no companions, had no bad habits, and his whole life seemed wrapped up in the solution of difficult problems connected with locks, for which he had a passion amounting almost to a mania.

FATHER MCCARTHY SAYS HIGH MASS

First Religious Celebration of the "Young Priest Recently Ordained" at St. Francis Seminary.

For the second time this week solemn high mass has been celebrated at St. Patrick's church and each time there was a special interest attaching to the impressive ceremonies for in both cases a Janesville boy, recently admitted to the priesthood, was the celebrant for the first time.

This morning at 10:30 o'clock a large congregation of friends of Rev. Father Eugene McCarthy assembled in the church, the altar of which was decorated with flowers which were brought by the friends of the young priest as a symbol of their congratulations. The sisters of St. Joseph's convent had charge of the artistic arrangement.

Solemn high mass was celebrated with Father McCarthy as the celebrant assisted by Rev. Father J. J. Collins, as assistant priest. Rev. James Hogan, of Lebanon, deacon; Rev. F. Lillis of Platteville, sub-deacon; Rev. J. E. Harlin of Edgerton, master of ceremonies; and Mr. McAvoy, a student at St. Francis seminary, as faithful.

Dean E. M. McGinnity preached an eloquent sermon on the priesthood and the congregation and the visiting clergy declared his masterly effort to be one of the finest that he had ever heard. He spoke directly to the hearts of his hearers, many of whom were overcome with emotion and when he finished many eyes were dimmed with tears. The chorus choir under the direction of D. D. Bennett and accompanied by the orchestra rendered the musical program exquisitely.

After the service the visiting clergymen, the members of the choir and several friends of Father McCarthy's were entertained at an elaborate banquet which was served at the home of his mother, Mrs. Ann McCarthy, 159 Cherry street and at the near-by home of his sister, Mrs. Michael McCue. Both houses were beautifully decorated and the elegant dinner was faultlessly served.

Among the guests besides the priests who assisted Father McCarthy were Rev. Fathers M. Hannon, Darlington; John Croke, Gratiot; J. A. Condon, Madison; J. J. McGinnity, Westport; J. Flood, Dayton; Francis Reilly, Whitewater; Charles McBride, Oconomowoc; M. J. Hus-

SALLY ANN CASE OLD SETTLER DEAD

Passed Away Peacefully at the Home of Her Daughter in Town of Janesville.

Mrs. Sally Ann Case, for fifty-two years a resident of Wisconsin, passed peacefully away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. H. Rook in the town of Janesville, Wednesday evening at 9:15 o'clock.

Mrs. Case had been an invalid for the past seven years during which time she has borne great suffering patiently. She was born in Portage county, O., May 7th, 1826, thus having completed the seventh-sixth year of her life. On Nov. 23, 1847 she was married to Nathaniel Case at Montville, Ohio, her husband preceeding her to the land beyond twenty-two years ago. For over half a century Mrs. Case has resided in this city and vicinity and she was a faithful and much beloved member of the First M. E. church. There were born to Mr. and Mrs. Case two sons and two daughters. The daughters, Mrs. Rook, of the town of Janesville, and Mrs. S. Gaylor of this city, whom Mrs. Case was lovingly cared for, survive their mother.

Funeral services will be held from the home of Mrs. Gaylor, 258 Center street, tomorrow afternoon, at two o'clock, Rev. W. W. Woodside officiating. The interment will be in Oak Hill cemetery.

HOW MOTHER HEN HATCHES OUT EGGS

Something More Than Mere Sitting
Is Required—Egg Production
Varies Enormously.

A fresh egg has the yolk perfectly balanced in the middle of the white. Unless it remains thus balanced the chances are decidedly against its hatching. Brooding hens understand that. When filling a nest, a hen turns over all the eggs in it before she quits it, after laying a new one.

She knows too that, in hot weather the sun will add her eggs, so she chooses a shady nest spot. But in winter a nest is often made where the fullest sunshine streams into it. Brooding is throughout full of quaint surprises. Eggs will hatch if kept at blood heat, 98 degrees. But they hatch more certainly and turn out stronger chicks if the temperature is a degree or so higher. Just how it is done nobody knows, but mother hens some way contrive to raise the normal heat of their bodies to the requisite pitch. Further, they strip the whole breast of feathers, so the eggs may have the benefit of full heat. Twice a day they turn over every egg in the nest, cuddling them separately up underneath their beaks, making little soft, half fretful clucking noises the while.

Hens are most uncalculating egg stealers. All eggs in sight will be drawn into the nest even though the stolen eggs may crowd out those legitimately there. Still, in a way, hens take stock of what they brood. With few eggs, they set prim, with trimly folded wings. With too many they sprawl all over the nest, wings loose enough to let light between the feathers, and frequently turn themselves about in reaching for uncovered eggs and draw them underneath the breast.

A hen of average size cannot profitably cover more than fifteen eggs. In cold weather, thirteen is a better limit, although in midsummer the same hen might brood and hatch twenty. Left to themselves, the unchecked instinct of egg stealing with hens is apt to result in a nest full of spoiled eggs, with maybe one or two feeble chicks.

Twenty-four hours of brooding makes hardly a perceptible change in an egg. Sometimes in warm weather there is the least reddish tinge beside the whitish spot in which the germ lies. After thirty-six hours the spot shows a well-defined drop of very red blood. In two days the blood drop has spread to veins and arteries. At the end of ten days the head is fairly well formed, though the trunk is still ragged. In two weeks the chick is recognizable as a chick, and if the shell envelops is broken will quiver all through and feebly move the head. It has, however, no vestige of the downy coat it will wear a little later. The coat forms rather rapidly.

The period of incubation for a chicken is twenty-one days and for two days before leaving the shell the young fowl is practically perfect. Yet it would not live were the shell forcibly removed. It spends the last two days gathering vital force to make its own way out into the world. It lies snug within the shell, the head bent upon the breast in such a position as brings the beak full against the shell.

The beak is armed with a tiny, detachable piece of horn, flint hard and set upon the very tip of the upper mandible. At full hatching time the chick presses this triangle against the brittle shell and breaks a triangular hole in it, possibly a quarter of an inch across. An hour later, the chick, having turned itself slightly, presses the beak against a new spot and makes a fresh break. As more air comes in the little creature grows stronger. It writhes still more strongly in its prison, turning always from left to right. At two hours or ten it breaks the shell in two and slips out into the nest a wet and weary sprawler.

Egg production varies enormously. A hen's capacity is about 400 eggs, divided prettily equally through the first three years of her existence.—New York Sun.

NEWS AND NOTES OF BADGER STATE

The summer vacation of the Northwestern Electrical association will be held at Sheboygan Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, June 26, 27 and 28. The sessions will be held at the Lakeview beach summer hotel, where quarters have been engaged for the visitors. The membership is composed of the owners and managers of the electric light, power and railway properties of the northwest, and the manufacturers of and dealers in electrical apparatus and supplies. About 150 will attend, including members and their ladies.

On motion of Senator Whitehead, attorney for the daughter of Calvin Peck, of Racine, the contest over the will was postponed until July 8. The estate amounts to $100,000, of which $6,000 went to the daughter and the balance to a second wife and a son of the deceased. It is charged by the contestant that the widow used undue influences over Peck when the will was made.

Preparations are being completed for the annual convention of the Independent Order of Scandinavian Workmen, which is to be held in West Superior on June 25, 26, 27 and 28. It is expected that from 7,000 to 10,000 will be present during the convention. Less than half rates have been secured from almost all the railroads, and the crowd that will come in consequence of the low rates from the northern part of Wisconsin and Minnesota is expected to be large. Congressman N. P. Haugen will be at the convention and will deliver an address.

J. D. Dusethe, who is charged with running away with the wife and four children of Joseph Grant, was brought back from Montana to Superior by the sheriff. The man and woman were on their way to British Columbia, and he fought every inch of ground before he was taken. He is charged with abduction.

The Dowle craze, which attracted many residents of Kenosha, is dying out, barely fifty people being present at yesterday's meeting.

DEGROFF ELECTED G. A. R. COMMANDER

SELECTION OF OFFICERS, BY VETERANS AT SHEBOYGAN.

W. W. Root, Senior Vice Commander, and George Morton for Junior Vice Commander—Helen L. Welzen at Head of Woman's Relief Corps.

Sheboygan, Wis., June 20.—The officers elected by the Wisconsin G. A. R. at the encampment here to day are as follows:

Commander—Allen H. DeGroot of Buffalo county.

Senior vice commander—W. W. Root of Sheboygan.

Junior vice commander—George Morton of Berlin.

The new Woman's Relief Corps officers are:

President—Harriet L. Wellen, Madison.

Senior vice president—Laura E. Dietsch, Sheboygan.

Junior vice president—Francis Wheeler, Medford.

Sheboygan, Wis., June 20.—The Sons of Veterans this morning made an effort to induce Ex-Governor Scofield to re-consider his determination not to be a candidate for commander. The ex-governor, however, declined to be forced into the fight. Had he remained there would have been a three cornered fight with the result in doubt.

As it is DeGroot was elected as commander, Colonel F. A. Copeland of LaCrosse having withdrawn.

Yesterday Mayor Dennett welcomed the veterans to the city. The response was made by Colonel B. F. Bryant.

There was a recitation by Miss Sarah Spratt daughter of Assemblyman and Mrs. George Spratt of Sheboygan Falls and a song by Comrade Kimbrey.

Commander Jones' Report

Department Commander Jones of the G. A. R. read his report. The commander's report in part was as follows:

"We have been able to maintain the finances of our organization. We have been called on to from our sister states but once for aid—then from Galveston and along the Gulf coast of Texas. The several posts throughout this department responded promptly and liberally. The Woman's Relief Corps heads the list of all other departments in being the first to reach them with aid, and the most liberal. Over $800 in cash was subscribed besides other supplies being forwarded."

Commander Jones spoke at length upon the old battleflag at the capitol and the monuments of Vicksburg and Shiloh. He paid a beautiful tribute to the Woman's Relief Corps. The annual parade was held in the afternoon and many of the familiar faces were missing, but the veterans made a good showing.

Waupaca Home Report

The report of the board of trustees and officers of the Veterans' home, which is before the encampment, shows that at the end of the fiscal year there were enrolled 680 inmates, the average number being 305 men and 199 women. During the year forty-three residents of the home died. The officers and employees of the home are complimented by the board for their efficiency. The expenses of the year were $84,684.22. Of this amount the state contributed $79,754.97 and the inmates $2,297.76 in pensions. As the state drew $30,500 from the United States treasury for their support the net cost to the state was only $49,255.

Killed in Bellevue.

New York, June 20.—Bellevue Hospital faces another scandal. Coroner's Physician Hanlon, viewing the body of John Christy, who died at the hospital yesterday morning, said the man had been beaten to death.

This week Bort, Bailey & Co. are having a special sale on lawn shirt waists.

RATHBONE SISTERS ELECT OFFICERS

Hinsey, Milwaukee; grand mistress of finance, Mrs. Nellie Hunt, LaCrosse; grand outer guard, Miss Meta Breumer, Kewaunee; grand protector, Mrs. Lillie Patterson, Plattville; and grand trustee, Mrs. Eliza Slade, Milwaukee.

Nicaragua Gives No Sign.

Reciprocity May Fail If an Attempt for Renewal Is Not Made.

Washington, June 20.—The time allowed by the protocols for the exchange of ratifications of the reciprocity treaty with Nicaragua expires on the 20th by limitation. Indications are that this treaty will not be extended by a supplementary article, as was done in the case of most of the other reciprocity treaties. The Nicaraguan government has been apprised of the approaching lapse of the treaty, but so far has not signified its purpose to extend it. The reciprocity treaty with Ecuador is now before the congress of that country. The finance committee, to which it was referred, has reported adversely upon the convention, but from reports received here it is believed that this action does not necessarily foreshadow rejection of the treaty.

REMINDERS OF MANILA BAY.

Prize Money Due Brumby and Gridley
Added to the Estates.

Washington, June 20.—The treasury department has issued two warrants which recall the battle of Manila bay. One was for $517 in favor of Mrs. A. E. The other warrant was for $4,867 in favor of Harriett V. Gridley, administratrix of the estate of the late Charles V. Gridley, who commanded the Olympia. The warrant was mailed to her at Erie, Pa. These warrants are in payment of prize money due those officers.

THE FIRE RECORD.

Nome Has a Big Blaze.

Seattle, Wash., June 20.—On May 28 Nome was subjected to a most disastrous fire. The blaze started in a building at the corner of Stedman avenue and First street, and soon leaped across to the old court building. Later the Washington Trading company's building and the Smiley-Campbell building caught. The fire department encountered the greatest difficulty in fighting the flames owing to the hose being filled with ice.

Georgia Town Is Destroyed.

Rome, Ga., June 20.—Boozeville, a town seven miles from Rome, with a population of 400, was destroyed by fire. The loss was about $20,000. The origin is unknown.

Bank Cashier Not Guilty.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 20.—The jury in the case of Richard F. Loper, charged with conspiring with Cashier John S. Hopkins to defraud the People's bank of large sums of money, brought in a verdict of not guilty by direction of the court. The bank failed March 24, 1898, and the Guarantor's Indemnity company, of which Loper was general manager, failed at the same time. Cashier Hopkins killed himself after accusing Loper of being in part the cause of his downfall.
